DAILY COURIER.

Reading Matter on every page.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY: FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1858.

The Caseless Judge, To the Johnnal's sneer at Wood as a "stripling," we retorted that Wheat never had a case in the court of Appeals-that his name nowhere appears u the published Reports. The truth of our re tort is admitted; and while it is contended that the fact is of no importance, explanation after explanation has been offered by the Journal, and vesterday appeared another leader to clear up 'what is of o importance." We have pointed out error at ter error, blunder on blunder, in the Journal's articles-we have shown the falsity-the word is ot used disrespectfully-of explanations offered, till more caution would reasonably have been exected. In the editor's last article we find this: They (the friends of Wood) can't find the name of their own caudidate there (in the Kentucky Reports) until after Judge Wheat had beeu from eight to ten years upon the Circuit Court bench. We called the editor's attention to a case of Mr. Wood's in 1852, and consequently he alludes to that date. If Wheat was ou the Circuit Court ench eight or ten years before that time, he was placed there in 1842 or 1844. The editor well knows-at least his intimate friends, Monroe & Bush, lawvers of this city, one the brother-in-law and the other the son-iu-law of Judge Wheat, can asily tell him-that Judge Wheat was appointed Circuit Judge in 1850, and went out of office in 1850 such errors are more noticeable from the fact that be exact date of Wheat's appointment, by reason f the intimacy alluded to, is so easily gotten. His whole service on the Circuit Court bench was only little over sie years, of which two only had exnired when Wood's name appears in the Court of Appeals, as stated before.

The Journal proceeds: "Prior to the publica on of briefs, almost the entire business of the Court (Court of Appeals) was alone by Morehead & Brown, Harlan & Craddock, Cates & Lindse Mouroe & Mouroe, and Owsley & Goodloe, all o whom were lawyers resident in Frankfort." This jist by no means embraces all the Frankfort law vers of the time to which the editor alludes. He has omitted Crittenden, Hewitt, J. T. Morehead, Leicher, Reed, L. Hord, and others. We are queaking of a period ruuning back through tweu vears, during the first twelve of which Judge Wheat was "exclusively devoted to his profes sion;" for if we go further back, the ounssions are endless. We take the editer to have spoken of lawvers resident in Frankfort; and taking him so to mean, we tell him that the records show that more business has been done in the Court of Ap peals in the time snoken of by lawyers not rem ding than by those residing in Frankfort -and that, too, "prior to the publication of briefs," viz-few volumes of the Kentucky Reports. We be lieve they are fair samples of the rest. We will give a table that the summary may be seen at glance, stating the volume, number of cases, the time embraced in the volume, and the number of instances in which lawyers residing in Frankfor and those not residing there, have been employed premising that R. L. means resident lawyers of Frankfort, and N. L. non resident lawyers or thus ed residing in Frankfort REPORTER. Dana....1937 5 Dana....1839 40 Dana B. Mon. . . 1547-8 13 B. Mon...1852 114

That the fairness of our table may be unde stood, judged of, and tested, we will explain how our figures are arrived at. Let it be remembered that the Journal is trying to account for Judge Wheat's name not appearing as connsel in the Court of Appeals, by saving that lawvers not reof Franklin county, did not appear in the Court of Appeals till 1854-that until then, "almost the en tire business of the court was done by Frankfor lawyers." Accepting the issue offered, we have omitted the Franklin cases as having nothing t lo with the question. We have not counted such cases for Frankfort as the Attorney General atlends to ex officio, for he is bound to attend t them, reside where he may. We have never counted two resident or non resident lawvers as more than one, when two or more of either class appear on the same side ppear for the appellant, we count one; if one o ore Frankfort lawvers appear on each side, we count two. We have done the same as to the non-resident lawvers. Wherever one or more resident or non-resident lawyers have appeared on either side of a case, we have counted one for 'resident" or "non-resident" as the case was. Our summary so completely shows the idlenes

f the Journal's last defense of Wheat, that we know not what to add which could make it clearer While other tawyers not residing in Frankfort were following up their cases and doing the bulk of the business in the Court of Appeals, Judge Wheat had never a case in that Court; and this loo, though our summary covers the last thirteen years of his practice at the bar, when his reputa tion should have been highest. We have naught to say against Judge Wheat as a man or a citi reu; but as a candidate for high and importan office, we say and have shown that he utterly lacks all the antecedents which can inspire confi dence in his fitness for the place.

Must a Know Nothing Vote the Jail Clique Ticket! This question has been so offened asked by anxous "Americans," who had almost as soon swalow arsenic as to vote for the jail clique candidates. that it deserves a fair answer, which may be known to all interested. The Journal would anwer it, except that it wants to compel as many of its partizans as possible to vote the odious icket. We do not jutend, however, that the jai clique and its organ shall thus force men to vote gainst their will, by keeping them in ignorance of their rights, even as Know Nothings.

The jail clique candidates were nominated by onvention which sat in the Odd Fellows' Hall. on the 6th of March last. It was attempted in that convention to pledge the Know Nothing party to stand by these nominations. The effort proved to be a signal failure. The resolution which was to bind the members of the party to vote the ticket, was laid upon the table, and every man thereby left to vote or not for whom he pleased. The following is the resolution that could not be passed as published by the Journal itself in the proceedings of the convention:

Resolved, That the Friends of Every Candidate NOW put in nomination shall pledge themselves AND THE CANDIDATES TO ABIDE BY THE DECISION O He (W. K. Thomas) can at least read a mitti mus directed to the jailor by the court and can write his own name. - Lou. Jour. COUNTRY TRIFLES.

WHITE SULHUR, Scott County, July 13.

this section was visited by a terriffic rain storm, which continued with unabating fury until the next morning. During this war of the elements there occurred a fittle episode in the usually placid routine of country life, deserving, at least, a brief mention. In the midst of the storm a young lady, residing near the forks of Elkhorn, fled from the paternal mansion, and, escorted alone by a servant, proceeded through the rain and midnight darkness to a 'wayside inn," which she and her affianced lover had appointed as a rendezvous. How, after the family had retired and the fair daughter was supposed to be sleeping innocently and quietly, she made her escape-how, upou her rugged and dangerons pathway, the lightning flashed-how. from the dark and pitchy cloud above, only the deep mouthed thunder beat responsive to the tumultuons throbbings of the maiden's hearthow, undeterred by swollen torrent and treacher ous hillside passes, the young lady persevered until the goal was reached, are incidents that would suffice for whole chapters of the Sylvanu Cobb and Emerson Bennett school of novelits .-But I am a plain dealer in facts, and so let my story be briefly told. After all these struggles the lady seemed destined to disappointment. Her lover had mistaken the time and place. (How could be, all young aud romantic females will intantly wonder!) However, a search through the neighborhood was successful, and he was finally discovered ensconsced in bed, oblivious of the merciless peltings of the pitiless storm and of the perils his lady love had encountered in his behalf Theu, just at day break, the party proceeded on their journey, and, doubtless, ere this the mar riage vows have been pledged between Miss Martha Macklin, of Frauklin, and Mr. Talbott, o Jefferson. All bouor to the devotion and heroism of the now blooming Mrs. T. I venture that she s now worth more in the estimation of her husband than she would have been had she brought as a dowry, half the wealth of her father.

[From the New York Post of Monday Evening.] The De Riviere Scandal.

Further Proceedings upon the Huheas Corpus-Mrs. Blount in Court. Pursuant to adjournment the proceedings upon the returns to the writs of habeas corpus, issued by Judge Ogden in the matter of the Blount ladies, were resumed this morning before Judge Ogden at the Snpreme Conrt Circuit sitting at Bergen. Col. Blount and Mr. Huncke, landlord of the Napoleon Hotel of Hoboken, were present, and a messenger was sent for Mrs. Blount, who is till at the Napoleon Hotel. Neither Captain d Riviere nor the young lady have yet been heard from, and Mr. Chief of Police McDonough has published a card in which he denies all knowledge their whereabouts.

Mrs. Blount arrived in the court room at ter utes before eleven o'clock, and immediately retired to the judge's private room. She is a good looking woman, not yet past the prime of life and was elegantly attired. She rode up from Bergen in an open baronche, accompanied by Mr. Richard Coles. Her entrance into the room produced a great sensation.
Ransom, counsel for Col. Blount, excepted to the answer of John Huncke, denying knowledge of the whereabouts of Miss Blount. He contended the answer was altogether evasive, imperfect, and unsufficieut. Mr. Ransom supported the objectious, in an ar-ument of some length, and was replied to by Mr. ulford, who contended that the answer was as full and complete as could be expected under the rcumstances. Ex-Judge Whiting, who also appeared as counsel for Mr. Blount, supported the objections, arging that the return was purposely evasive, deserving condemnation and punishment. The court sustained the objections, incidentally enving the right of a landlord to prevent a has and from having an interview with his wife in his hotel. The return must be amended, so as t be full and explicit, making a clean breast of all be knew concerning the parties, and the circumstances of their coming to and leaving the hotel. As regarded Mrs. Blount, however, the difficulty might be obviated by producing her in court in obedience to the writ, as she was then near at least

Judge Whiting said it had been utterly impos-tible for Mr. Blount to account for the course of nis wife in this matter, after all the disclosure had been made of de Reviere's character. He had good grounds for believing that she was more or ess unsound in her mind, and hoped Judge Ogder would have an interview with her to satisfy him-self upon that point. Some of Blount's had seen her, and were satisfied that she was a monomaniac. If, in the full possession of her faculties, she had decided to leave him, his client would not have omplained, though he could never have consent ed to surrender his beloved daughter to a villain.

In this commotion he censured severely the course of the counsel on the other side, who had mited with such men as Huncke and de Riviere to rob this wretched man of his wife and daugh-ter. It was disgraceful that in this day of Chris-tain civilization, lawyers could be found to do such work. Twenty-five years ago men who would have done this would have been hooted out f the profession. The agouies of mind endured by his client ought not to be antiered for all the agabouds of the Zouave army.

Mr. Mulford replied to the effect that no man should dictate his course. He had seen nothing crazy about Mrs. Blount, and when she told him she did not wish to go with her husband he had not seen fit to advise her to the coutrary. He had no objection to the Judge having an interview

Judge Ogden said there was no occasion for producing the lady in public; she would be con-idered before him constructively, and he would see her privately before the proceedings closed. Mr Blount thanked the Judge for his kindnes Mr. Mulford said he would amend the return with regard to Mrs. Blouut at once. As regards that part of the return which referred to Miss int he should have to ask for a postponement that Mr. Huncke have opportunity to learn the tacts, and prepare a return as full and explicit as the court required.

Mr. Ransom said all they desired was the facts

Mr. Huncke knew of his own knowledge.

Judge Ogden decided that the return must b mended at once, that the case go on to a close as early as possible.

A recess of an hour was then taken, during which Judge Ogden had an interview with Mr.

Stount.
At 2 o'clock Mr. Mulford put in the following additional return:

And this deponent further saith, that Henri de Riviere has been staying at said hotel, but whether he came with said ladies or not deponent cannot say; that he has now gone away, but where the said De Riviere went, or where he can now be found, deponent cannot say; the said petition er, Frederick S. Affixed to the return was the usual jurat.

Mr. Whiting said that, upon the facts as alleged in the return, they should prepare a traverse to be served upon Mr. Mulfird this morning. Issue being joined, the case will be heard upon proofs on Thursday part Phursday next.

During the recess, Mr. Ransom, as counsel for During the recess, Mr. Kansom, as counsel for Col. Blount, gave notice to Mr. Huncke that Col. Blount would not only not be responsible for Mrs. Blount's expenses at the Napoleon Hotel, but that he should hold Mr. Huncke responsible in dam-he should hold Mr. Ituncke responsible in damages if he harbored her.

This brought up the question before the court as to the custody of Mrs. Blount, rending the proceedings. Interviews were had between Mrs. Blount, Mr. Mulford, and Judge Ogden. Col. Blount asked for an order to have Mrs. Blount go to New York. This Judge Ogden refused, and the matter was at last decided by the Judge ordering that she remain at the Napoleva Hotel for the present. An attachment was issued yesterday, at the sui of Mr. Collins, a Mobile creditor of Captain de Riviere, and Deputy Sheriff Francis levied npon the effects of the Captain remaining at the Hotel Napoleon, consisting of two large trunks, with their contents, a hat box, a saddle and bridle, a sword said to have been used by him in the Crimers was and a large dayuerrectype of himself mean war, and a large daguerreotype of himself, in full Zouave costume. The creditor's claim is $100, and the goods are supposed to be sufficient to cover it. Nothing has been heard of the Captain yet, but it is supposed he remains concessomewhere in Hoboken. [From the Hoboken City Gazette.]

Col. Blount says he is determined to follow u Col. Blount says he is determined to follow up de Riviere, if he has to remain away from home two or three years. He has given up all business, and will do all he can to bring him to instice.

According to all accounts, the Captain has been playing the confidence game on a grand scale in Hoboken. It is asserted by those who eught to know, that he is without a cent of money; that all the cash he has had since he went to Hoboken was $50, which he borrowed from some Germans, who were credulous enough to lend it to him; was $50, which he borrowed from some Germans, who were credulons enough to lend it to him; that he has paid Mr. Huncke for his first day's boarding; but that the balance of the bill, amounting to over one hundred dollars, has not yet been liquidated.

ing to over one hundred dollars, has not yet been liquidated.

While writing a gentleman, a lawyer, from New York, Mr. G. L. Walker, is at our side with a bill, a tailor's bill, against de Riviere. He says that M'me de Riviere, with her little daughter, two years old, called on him last summer on business concerning her husband. Will nothing convince Miss Blount of her foolish infaination?

An anonymous correspondent intimates that Miss Blount is domiciled at the residence of a learned and gallant citizen of lludson county.—We can scarcely credit the suggestion. The party, with all his gallantry, is not likely to tarnish epanlettes nor compromise his reputation by screening an offender from justice, or setting at defiance the judgment of his fellow citizens, especially the lady portion.

Interesting from Utah. The correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, riting from Bear River, in Gen. Johnston's army, under date of Jane 18th, says:

On the 15th, an express came to General John on the loth, an express came to General Johnston, from the Commissioners in Salt Lake, announcing that peace was made with the Mormons! The terms and conditions acceded to were dictated in the President's proclamation. The Mormon leaders wished to stipulate particularly that the troops should not be quartered in their houses, among their people; but were informed by the Commissioners that such condition was useless, as our laws provided against that, and that the soldiery sent to maintain the law would not be likely to break it in this instance.

The Commissioners, I understand, were not well received. They were not at first allowed a house to sleep in, and were met with defiance and threats to burn the city. The Mormons had all eserted but about three hundred men and a ozen women, and straw was stuffed into the conses ready to fire the city; but on hearing that leneral Johnston was about to advance, and be ieving it a fait, the head traitors "caved in," and came to terms to the tune of "double-quick"

A True Picture. The Lexington Observer and Reporter, in speak ng of the terrible occurrence at that place on Sa urday last, draws a picture which is equally applicable to other latitudes and places. We com-mend what it says in the following paragraph, to the consideration of our readers: Everything connected with the death of Joseph Beard and the subsequent execution of Baker, furnishes materials for deep, earnest, thoughtful reflection to every citizen, no matter whether he be good or bad, the best or worst—in this community. The juries of past years who have shielded those who were guilty of cool, calm, deliberate marder, laid the foundation of the pyramid of crime and wrong which has just been capped by the inanimate form of Baker. This structure has been capped by the cool of the pyramid of the warders. the nanimate form of Baker. This structure has been growing steadily for years, and the venders of poison whisky, the officers who feared the power of the habitus of the brothels of the town, and allowed them immunity simply because they refused to vote for any one who pursued them with nnfinching game, the purchasers of votes, the habitual wearers of fatal weapons, these, and habitual wearers of tatal weapons, these, and such as these have been the builders of this structure, and it is time that it was overthrown. Too many of them result is manifest to every eye. Too many of them have bowed to an eligarchy composed of men whose oath was not worth a fip in a court of justice, and who were not worthy to live in a civilized land. The influence of this oligarchy poisoned the channels of justice, was felt in our courts, was admitted as most potent by every aspirant for power. Shall this thing end at once and forever? This is a question for the good men of our community to decide, and if they decide it, as we believe they will, Barker will not have died in vain. The editor is not content to sneer at the services of a patriot, who, in hoyhood, rushes to the defense of his country; he must sneer at the Kentuckians generally, who were at the battle of New Orleans, by insinnations that they "ingloriously fled" with Batman among them. Soon after, about twenty-five miles above that, another crevasse was produced. The waters have contin ued to flow through both of these from their com mencement, covering nearly the entire country far back into the interior. From the mouth of Red River to Cairo but few of the levees were suf ficient to withstand the waters. Most of then were found too weak or too low, which gave rise to a general overflow on both sides of the river, engulfing half, or more, of the plantations immedistely upon the river, and thousands of others back in the interior. At the same time, Red Riv er, Black River, Onichita, Arkansas, and other large streams that empty into the Mississippl, overflowed their hanks hundreds of miles in ex tent, spreading out and meeting the overflow from the Mississippi, and burying at one and the same time millions of acres of cultivated land.

In many instances the stock were gather ed together upon the most elevated points o ground, where they would stand until they starved to death. Some of these poor creatures were to be seen standing in water until their hair would drop off, keeping up a continued cry of distress till silenced by death. Some of the inhabitants of these flooded regions continued to eling to their houses and cahins, while others betook themselves to their skiffs and flals, and vet others fled to their more favored neighbors, while some are seeking homes in dryer regions.

It is presumable that amid this general des ruction many human beings have perished, but it is impossible to tell to what extent.

But, these are not the only disastrous conse quences of the floods. Nearly one sixth of the entire cotton crop for this year is destroyed, which will enhance the price of cotton nearly to that extent, and thus effect the interest of every consumer. Other erops, though not to so great an fit for use for some years. Human industry, to considerable extent, is checked, and general sickness and sweeping epidemies will follow the suh siding of the flooding waters.

> GALLANTRY VS. LAW .- On the 29th of June the grand jury found an indictment in our Police Court against Thos. Selvage and Ward Sullivau, two 'Mericans, for an assault upon a German by the name of Fuerabend. When the cases were ealled for trial, the Commonwealth's Attorney stated in open court that Selvage and Sullivan had told him that they beat the Dutchman for insulting their wives. Therenpon the Judge per mitted the Attorney for the Commonwealth to dismiss the cases. This dismissal of the indictments upon an ex parte statement not under oath may not have been according to law, but it shows how gallant Judge Johnston and Attorncy Elliott are in the Police Court.

LABOR SAVING MACHINE.—The most important to the public generally is a Washing Machine, manufactured by R. D. Porter & Co., of this city. These machines have been tried by a large number of our best citizens, and have given satisfaclion to every one who has used them. The ma chines are cheap, simple, durable, and not liable to get out of order. A child of ten years can unstand and work one of them. It is a great say rug of time and labor; it does not rub off the but-tons, or injure the fluest fabric in washing; it will wash anything from a pocket handkerebief to the lurgest size quilt, and do the work quick, and do it well. In proof of the above, we can refer to a large number of highly respectable persons who now have the machine in use, and, in addition to this, give any one the privilege of trying the machine before purchasing. Hoofland's Germau Bitters will cure Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, etc., etc Read what is said of them. G. W. Bowen says: ANDERSON, IND., Jau. 16, 1857.

I could get you numerous certificates were it necessary, but in this community their virtues are then than is sold of any three patent medicines in this county. In my own case I have received more benefit from them in six months than I have received frem the regular physicians in five years. I can, therefore, conscientiously recommend them, and do say I would not be without them in any and do say, I would not be without them in my family for any amount."

STEPHENS—Complete in one large duodecimo volume, ef 500 pages, neatly bound lu ctoth, for one dol lar and twenty-five cents; postage 25c.

The great prize story of Mary Derwent was, at the time of its publication in the Ladles' Companion, some sixteen years ago, one of the most popular and widely spread stories ever issued in this country. That story alone served to introduce Mrs. Ann S. Stephens into the first rank of American authors.

alone served to introduce Mrs. Ann S. Stephens into the first rank of American authors.

It circulated everywhere—icas admired by everybody, and scarcely a mouth of any year has passed since its first appearance, without bringing solicitations that the author would print it in book form. But Mrs. Stephens had from the beginning resolved to tate up a period so important in the history of our country again, only when her time and experience had matured all her powers; when she would complete a novel more worthy the grandeer of a subject so full of startling truth and thrilling romance. The book is now completed, being five times longer than it was originally, and the teen prize story of one hundred pages is now over five hundred pages, in which the original story maintains its place, while the characters and events are carried forward to a more perfect and grand developement.

Girare House, Philadelphia, May 7, 1856.

Prof. Charles DeGrate: I freely give it as my opinfon that your "Electric Oil" is among the most wonderful remedies of modern times. At the earnest request of a lady who alleged she had been relieved of a most painful affection by its use, I was induced to try a bottle, though at the time of purchasing 1 fully believed it to be a quack medicine and a catchpenny humbug. But trial convinces me that it possesses a magic power, and its use will prove a blessing to suffering humanity.

I recently took a cold from sleeping in damp sheets, and my neck became so much swollen and painful that I could not turn my head. could not turn my head.

After using, without success, everything prescribed by physician, I last evening tried your Electric Oil.

DYSPEPSIA. DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,

LIVER COMPLAINT, Weakness of any kind,

FEVER AND AGUE, And all the various affections consequent upon a diseased STOMACH OR LIVER,

Stomach of the various affections consequent upon a uscase.

Such as Indigestion, Addity of the Stomach, Colicky Paina, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Eleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rhenmatic, and Neuraigle Affections, it has in aumerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected

This is a parely vegetable compound, prepared on sericity scientific principles after the manner of the colebrated Holland Professor, Berchave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of srdent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantineous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, west and low spirited, it will prove a greatful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION! CAUTION:

The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many initations, which the public should guard against purchasing. THE RIVER was at a stand yesterday, with scant five feet water in the canal by the mark. There is a rise of four or five inches altogether at the head of the falls, and fully twelve inches on Portland bar. Boats drawing six feet can go through the canal, while on the falls there are three feet water on the pass. The weather has turned very warm and close, with heavy clouds, an indication f rain. Capt. Hildreth, of the Telegraph No. 3, reports the river receding a little at Clucinnati when he left, with a rise coming from Pittsburgh and other quarters. In the channel hence to Cincinnati the Telegraph found about seven feet at Rising Sun, the shoalest point.

NEW SOUTHERN MAIL PACKET .- The Bayou Sar Mail Company have just completed a contract with the renowned builders D. & J. Howard, of Jeffersonville, for a spleudid new packet steamer. This steamer is intended exclusively for passengers and transportation of the mails. Capt. J. A. Cotton, President of the company, who will superintend her construction, designs her for one of the fastest steamers afloat. She hasn't been named yet but of course will have a feet name. named vet, but of course will have a fast name as she will "walk the waters like a thing of life."
The extreme length will be 230 feet, and her cabin will be the finest on the Western waters. The boilers, of which there are 5, are to be 30 feet long and 38 inches in diameter. The cylinders will be 28 inches in diameter by 8 feet stroke. These will be built by Lent, South & Shipman. This boat will be a model boat, and as we have mentioned fleet as the fleetest.

FOR MEMPHIS.—The fleet Alvin Adams, accustomed regularity, leaves this day for Mem-phis and intermediate points. The boat and offi-cers are too well known to require commenda-tion. A trip on the Adsma is a pleasant event. The river was falling slowly at Cincinnati, resterday, with upwards of 6 feet in the channel. Dispatchee from Pittsburgh report an unexpected rise from the Allegheny. This will let up the fleet rise from the Allegheny. The of boats from lower ports.

On Sunday last, George Marshal, aged 16 years, a son of Mr. Elijah Marshal, left Cincinus ti, and has not been seen or heard from since.— His parents are in great distress, and anxious to ascertain his whereabouts. When last seen, he was on the Superior, but the officers of that steamer state that he did not go to Louisville on that boat. He is a lad of remarkably steady habits, -was clad in black clothing, and left home with an account book and three dollars.

FOR NEW OBLEANS.— The splendid low water steamer Fanny Bullitt, in command of Capt. Dunliam, leaves at 5 o'clock this evening for New Orleans. The Bullitt is of light draught, and has excellent accommodations.

FOR OWENSBORO AND EVANSVILLE. - The popular packet, John Briggs, the people's favorite, starts to all landings as far down as Evansville, this afternoon at 4 o'clock, from Portland. Capt. Cobb is a clever and thorough boatman, and P. M. Garner, the clerk, spares no effort to please and accommodate all on the route, maintaining fair and permanent rates, which makes the Briggs a reliable packet and a general favorite.

Capt. John D. Adams' new Arkansas river packet Irene left Cincinnati on Wednesday for Little Rock with a splendid trip—three hundred tons, and a number of passengers. Although a small craft, she is the most complete and elegantr furnished steamer that has left there in while, and will "take the shine" along the Arkan

The Fanny Bullitt, which arrived from New Orleans yesterday morning, reports scant eight feet water on French Island bar. Less than six feet, however, were reported at Flint Island, but we think boats would find no trouble drawing over six feet

To the officers of the Fanny Bullitt we at indebted for New Orleans dates of Friday last; also for a manifest and memorandum. The H. D. Newcomb, Capt. McGill, from New Orleans, was at Vicksburg Wednesday, full of passengers. She is due Sunday.

The light Superior is the mail and passenger packet for Cincinnati and the Eastto-day. She leaves from the foot of Third street, at 12, M., and connects at Cincinnati with all the early trains, clerk, Charley Topping, is always correct

The Monongahela Belle was sold at Jack sonport, Arkansas, last Monday, and was pur-chased by Mr. Gillchrist. She will make regular trips from Jacksonport to Buffalo City.
